

NOTICE OF DATA PRIVACY EVENT

On March 8, 2021, PEI-Genesis, Inc. (“PEI-Genesis”) announced a recent event that may have impacted the privacy of information relating to certain individuals and businesses. While PEI-Genesis is unaware of any attempted or actual misuse of personal information in relation to the event, we are providing potentially affected individuals with information about the event and steps individuals may take to help protect their personal information should they feel it is necessary to do so.

What Happened? On July 3, 2020, PEI-Genesis became aware of suspicious activity in an employee’s email account. PEI-Genesis immediately changed the employee’s email account credentials and began an investigation into the incident. As part of the investigation, which was conducted with the assistance of third-party forensic specialists, it was determined that the employee’s email account was subject to unauthorized access from June 23, 2020 to July 2, 2020. Therefore, PEI-Genesis conducted a thorough and time-consuming review of the account to identify any individuals whose sensitive information was contained in the account. Through the review, on December 29, 2020 PEI-Genesis determined that information related to certain individuals and businesses was included in the account. Although there is no evidence that this information was viewed by an unauthorized individual, PEI-Genesis is providing notice in an abundance of caution.

What Information Was Involved? The information that was potentially subject to unauthorized access varied by individual but included individuals’ name, date of birth, Social Security number, driver’s license number, passport number, financial account information, payment card information, username and password, health insurance information and/or medical treatment/diagnosis information.

What We Are Doing. PEI-Genesis takes the security of information in its care very seriously. As part of our ongoing commitment to the protection of information in our possession, we worked with third-party specialists to reaffirm the security of our systems and to enhance the existing measures in place. We have taken and will continue to take steps to help reduce the likelihood of a similar situation from occurring in the future. PEI-Genesis also notified state regulators of this incident.

What You Can Do. PEI-Genesis recommends you remain vigilant against attempts to obtain sensitive information through social engineering. In addition, as a best practice, individuals should always carefully review their online accounts for unauthorized activity and report any instances of fraud to law enforcement. You can also review the below Steps You Can Take to Protect Personal Information.

Individuals with questions can call the dedicated assistance line we established for this incident at 215-737-1297, Monday through Friday, from 8:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time.

STEPS YOU CAN TAKE TO PROTECT PERSONAL INFORMATION

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, military identification, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert or credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
