

This is a multi-state form. Not all states allow all exemptions listed on this form. Purchasers are responsible for knowing if they qualify to claim exemption from tax in the state that would otherwise be due tax on this sale. The seller may be required to provide this exemption certificate (or the data elements required on the form) to a state that would otherwise be due tax on this sale.

The purchaser will be held liable for any tax and interest, and possibly civil and criminal penalties imposed by the member state, if the purchaser is not eligible to claim this exemption. A seller may not accept a certificate of exemption for an entity-based exemption on a sale made at a location operated by the seller within the designated state if the state does not allow such an entity-based exemption.

Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement

Certificate of Exemption Instructions for Washington State

Purchasers may use this Certificate of Exemption (the “Certificate”) to claim exemptions from the retail sales tax on purchases of otherwise taxable items. To claim an exemption, the purchaser must complete all relevant fields in the Certificate and provide the fully completed Certificate to the seller.

Seller responsibilities: Sellers must retain proper records for their exempt transactions, including keeping a copy of the Certificate. You may maintain your records electronically, in a paper format, or both. The Certificate must be made available to any state participating (member and associate member states) in the Streamlined Sales and Use Tax Agreement (SSUTA).

You are relieved of the responsibility for collecting and remitting retail sales tax on the sale or sales described in the Certificate, provided all of the following conditions are met:

1. The purchaser fully completes all fields on the Certificate;
2. The purchaser provides the fully completed Certificate to you at the time of sale;
3. If the purchaser claims an entity-based exemption on a purchase made at your business location, the state in which your business is located allows that exemption;
4. You do not fraudulently fail to collect the tax due; and
5. You do not solicit customers to unlawfully claim an exemption.

Purchaser Instructions for Completing this Certificate

Purchaser warning: Purchasers are responsible for making sure they are eligible for the exemption claimed. If an SSUTA participating state determines that you are not eligible, you will be liable for any taxes, interest, and penalties imposed by that state on your purchase. This Certificate must be completed in its entirety.

Section (1) instructions:

You may complete a single certificate for multiple states where you conduct business and regularly make exempt purchases from the same seller. To do so, you must check the box on the front of the Certificate under section (1) indicating that you are attaching the completed Multistate Supplemental form.

If you are not attaching the Multistate Supplemental form, you must enter the two letter postal abbreviation for the state under whose law you are claiming an exemption in the space provided. For example: if you are claiming an exemption from retail sales tax imposed by Washington State, enter “WA” in the space provided.

Section (2) instructions: Single purchase exemption certificate.

If you are using the Certificate for a single purchase, check the box in section (2). If selecting this box, you must include the invoice or purchase order number for the transaction.

If you do not check this box, the Certificate will be treated as a blanket certificate. This blanket certificate will continue in force so long as you are making reoccurring purchases under the Certificate (at least one purchase within a consecutive twelve month period) or until cancelled by you.

Section (3) instructions: Purchaser information.

Complete the purchaser and seller information in section (3), as requested. You must include the state tax identification number for you or your business and identify the state and/or country that issued that tax identification number. For example: for the state of Washington this tax identification number would be the Unified Business Identifier (UBI) or Tax Registration Number (TRN) issued by the Washington Department of Revenue. If you or your business does not have a state tax identification number, enter the Federal Employers Identification Number (FEIN) issued to your business. If your business does not have an FEIN number, then include your personal driver's license number along with the issuing state.

If you are a foreign diplomat or consular personnel, you must include your individual identification number shown on the front of the exemption card issued to you by the United States Department of State's Office of Foreign Missions (or associated organizations).

Section (4) instructions: Type of Business.

Circle the number that best describes the type of business carried out by your organization or business in section (4) of the Certificate. For instance, if "publishing" best describes your organization's activities, you would circle "05" for "Information, publishing and communications" in section (4). If none of the descriptions apply, circle number "20" for "Other." If you select "Other," provide a clear and concise description for your type of business.

Section (5) instructions: Reason for Exemption.

Section (5) of the Certificate lists a number of general exemptions most commonly allowed by SSUTA participating states. However, each participating state's laws governing exemptions will be different. Not all listed exemptions are valid in each participating state. Additionally, each participating state may have other exemptions that are not listed on the Certificate. To better determine what sales and use tax exemptions are valid in a particular state, please refer to the respective state's web site or other information available relating to that state's exemptions.

Circle the exemption that you or your business is claiming and then enter all other information requested for that exemption.
